

SUNWAY International School (SIS) had its first intake in January 2008 at the Bandar Sunway Campus and is part of the Sunway Education Group that is owned and governed by the Jeffrey Cheah Foundation.

SIS takes pride in three key pillars in its education – programmes, people and positioning – to enrich its students' learning experience in school.

Quality curriculum

The Canadian curriculum has been consistently ranked top in the Programme for International Student Assessment (PISA) under the aegis of the Organisation for Economic Co-operation and Development (OECD).

SIS is one of the few schools in Asia to offer the Ontario Ministry of Education's secondary curriculum.

In Malaysia, SIS is the only school that offers programmes from grades 7 to 12.

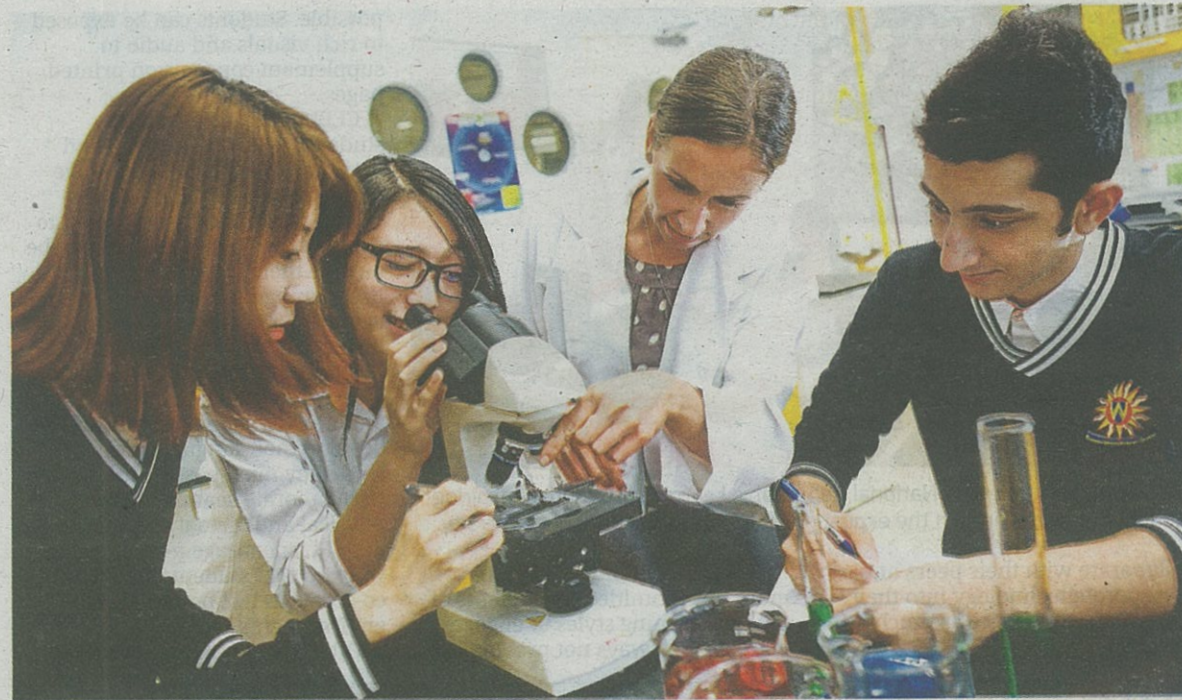

The school is inspected annually by the Ontario Ministry of Education and is authorised to grant credits leading to the Ontario Secondary School Diploma (OSSD).

The OSSD is considered one of the most highly recognised secondary school qualifications in the world and is accepted by top-tier universities worldwide.

The objective of assessments and evaluations is to promote learning to determine each student's capability. In this regard, teachers design lesson plans that support student's strengths and potential.

Assessments are an ongoing and cumulative process, resulting in a flexible and comprehensive learning experience for students. Seventy per cent of final grades are determined by work completed throughout the course and 30% are determined by final evaluations.

The Ontario curriculum at SIS is delivered by trained and qualified Ontario teachers. Additionally, SIS teachers are certified annually by the Ontario College of Teachers and licensed to teach in Ontario school systems.

Parents play a big role in their children's learning and growth. SIS believes with parents' active engagement, students' growth will be at its best, academically and socially.

The collaboration between the students, parents and school are the backbone of SIS.

The practice, called the three-legged stool approach, has been developed and enhanced over the years so that parents have opportunities to actively contribute and partner with the school.

The school supplements parent engagement through a variety of planned activities, both social and educational, to produce significant benefits to students, parents and the school. The SIS' Parent Council is actively involved in the life of the school.

A trusted brand

By votes of consumers in Malaysia, SIS won the Reader's Digest Trusted Brand Award (Gold) in the Private/International School category for two consecutive years. This is a testament to SIS' excellence.

SIS' accolades this year include a five-star rating for private and international schools by the Education Ministry.

SIS was rated excellent for achieving the highest rating in the Standard Kualiti Institusi Pendidikan Swasta (SKIPS) 2015.

The five-star rating is the highest level of recognition granted to schools with excellent results in the required criteria.

The SKIPS assessment, developed and monitored by the Education Ministry, encompasses numerous criteria including the school's curriculum, teaching and learning, academic excellence, facilities and quality processes.

The SKIPS rating is the Education Ministry's benchmark set to ensure private and international schools in Malaysia provide quality education and outstanding services to the community.

SIS's new campus in Sunway Iskandar is scheduled to welcome its first intake of students next year and will offer early years, elementary and secondary levels of schooling.

SIS campuses have recently been officially authorised, accredited and accepted as an International Baccalaureate (IB) World School and will be offering the IB Diploma Programme in January 2017. Admission for the January 2017 intake is open.
